

Wingman™ I.S. Pro

Wingman™ Irrigation Scheduling Pro

is the comprehensive solution for irrigation scheduling support. There's someone by your side, all season, helping you schedule every irrigation.

Wingman™ I.S. Pro irrigation schedules combine the best of current technology with in-field experience. They are delivered in a personalized, easy-to-understand way that helps you make the final decision quickly and confidently.

If your operation would benefit from using in-field data and having an experienced team to help make irrigation calls, Wingman™ I.S. Pro is a good fit.

Our role is to help you make your best irrigation decisions all season long even when you're extremely busy, because effective irrigation affects everything else:

- ✓ Efficient water use
- ✓ Plant and soil health
- ✓ Labor management
- ✓ Regulatory compliance

Wingman™ I.S. Pro uses data from your fields to make irrigation schedules specific to your operation's goals and management zones.

Your operation needs to have:

- Adequate irrigation system design & uniform delivery
- Adequate in-field sensors
- The ability to treat water chemistry if needed to maintain adequate infiltration

To set up a consult, email info@wingman.ag or call (559) 686-5115.

We look forward to working with you.

Wingman™ I.S. Pro includes:

Initial assessment

Our team confirms that in-field sensors meet minimum requirements & the irrigation system can deliver peak ET. Soil & water analysis are also assessed to learn how water infiltrates.

Pre-season planning

We outline a plan that helps us help you. We learn about your operation and goals so we can add the most value to your decision-making process.

Weekly/biweekly Irrigation Schedule Reports

You receive a regular, easy-to-use calendar that keeps you informed and ready to make irrigation decisions.

Monthly planning check-ins

Your Wingman™ team learns what your plans are for the upcoming month to make sure our recommendations and in-field data collection support them.

Call your Wingman™ when questions come up

Need to make an adjustment? Have a concern about the data? You have access to an irrigation specialist that knows your plan and is ready to help.

In-field data collection visits

Our technicians complete hand-feel method evaluations, visual observations and pressure bomb samples (if applicable), which are scheduled strategically to provide data when its most relevant.

Troubleshooting & service

You have access to our local, experienced field technicians, ensuring that your equipment is serviced correctly with minimal downtime.

Post-season evaluations

We learn how we can do better. Every season, irrigation gets more dialed in, so you benefit from working with us long-term.

A Wingman™ supports you in every irrigation decision you make. You move, we move.
